

No sleep
Empty Room
Barren Walls
Clothes Scattered

Alone
The world still
as the sun breaks
Pensive

I am great and I am not I am different
and I am not

Some like me wonder Others find comfort still more ~~chase~~ relief
I wonder

What is wrong?
What have I done?
What's the inverse?
Who do I thank?

My ear rings
My mind spins
My back aches
I atrophy

No structure but mine
No limits but me
No time like now and here I sit

So much to do so much to see so many to love Too many

Back to the wall
Eyes to the ceiling
Pen to the pad
Heart to the world
To the men at war
the mothers struggling and the children lost
I see each of you

Have the answers I do not
The love I do
I wish I knew
I wish I knew

The pain I get The emotions I feel
The logic I understand Fix it I can't

Yet with my delusion it is the only way to finally find that peaceful rest
