

Energy is a fickle thing

People want it, take it

Others create it by taking big swings

Energy is love, and creates attraction

- Its Anger, rage, and destroys.
it is dark and it is light, a fusion of it all

Fundamentally all is energy the earth, the stars, and dreams,

A power fused into eternity

And spans the universe through sunbeams

Rivers of light running to and fro

Reach in and grab some, and go

A mass of belief times action, fast and right

Anything we have known since one fateful night