

More days removed the thoughts continue
Thinking about the girl who said 'I'd be with you'

The harder I work the more it hurts, the more I think the worse it gets.

A cage of beautiful pain

A hug tight of a future yet explored

Many days removed the feelings compound

For the girl who believed 'your heart I have found'

The more time that passes, the more I wonder
The more we experience the closer I feel

A relationship with many a gain

A potential still of much more
