

I feel off

Some anger, some sadness but it's not that Head aches, stomach queases that's not it either

Big yawns, many notifications... still no

A wonky feeling of mind disconnected from body, of body disconnected from earth, of soul from fulfillment
So many pieces and parts, all mushed together, jumbled sickness, soreness, pain and pandemonium.

Alarm bells ring, in the distance, muted.
The search in my mind for solid ground like there is no distance or ground at all.
The bells ring on.

I'm dreaming, but awake. Watching in slow motion
A flow state, but off.
