

Much Wisdom is buried six feet deep Still more is burned with none to keep
Very little makes it out

If it does, its like the doves with their branch
A story and symbols like brands on a ranch
Gold, the sun, light, darkness, hair, ashes
All means a message from past lashes

Pain encapsulated for our special brains to capture late, You see no longer do the old teach the young and men has that hung Few men, many boys few women, many girls

So many adults not many grown ups
The cause of any quarrels and unfilled cups

It used to be that there comes a stage
An age where the boys go with the sage
Away from the females, where the men recount tales
The boys are injured and then go inward
With effort, and intention there is wisdom retention
And from this only men return

They have learned the lessons of life passed down through calculated strife
What is called a classic initiation

- Step 1: Bonding with the mother, then separation
- Step 2: Get close with the father, then cut ties
- Step 3: Arrival of the mentor who tells no lies
- Step 4: Apprentice to a hurricane
- Step 5: Marriage to a queen I'll give no name

There is much that has been lost and it has come at a cost

So if over this you frown go read the story, of Iron John