

Fuel

It is you against you but sometimes others intervene Maybe you gave them an opening, maybe you did not regardless that is Fuel

That errant look or the deep pain
Not bottled up, but captured inside you You'll reflect on it, learn from it and take the energy as Fuel

Like a mule that crosses mountains and many miles you'll continue on the journey unbroken Tough, diligent and strong, plodding along For a mule, setback is just Fuel

Take MJ, or Nadal absolute jewels
For them, as you see in their eyes Their achievements are inevitable, because the goal is ^{the} work anything in their way is just Fuel

For the Fire inside you a consuming ever growing hunger although it will sometimes cool everything that comes is just Fuel.

So know this pain is purposeful with reflection Learn from the pain, go inwards towards it For the light teaches you less than the darkness Change the Fuel to energy and in the end all will be seen.
